OPPOSITION OF MAYOR IS THREAT TO CIVIC CENTER

Is Torrance going to lose its one big opportunity of establishing a beautiful civic center to save a few paltry dollars?

This is the well-founded apprehension which is being voiced by many citizens who see in the construction of the new city hall, auditorium and library buildings a chance of building a civic center which will be pointed to with justifiable pride by every resident for years to come.

Mayor Ludlow's opposition to the purchase of the proposed library site on the El Prado parkway opposite the city hall because of the cost of this property constitutes a real threat to the entire civic center idea. And in addition, it is a direct affront to the unanimous opinion of the community-wide Committee of Forty, appointed by the city council to recommend suitable locations for the public buildings.

Certainly the recommendation of the Committee of Forty, representing every important organization in the city, has been most clear. The committee endorsed the civic center idea in its original recommendation. At the behest of Mayor Ludlow, the committee met again. At the time the committee was requested to review its recommendation, Mayor Ludlow stated that after the committee had an opportunity of comparing the prices of the various sites both within and outside of the proposed civic center, if it still wanted the buildings constructed within the restricted area, that he would be satisfied to have them built there.

Well, Mr. Mayor, your committee has met again. It has considered carefully the prices of the various sites, and it still wants the buildings located at El Prado and Cravens. And the committee's action was unanimous.

While it is admitted that the cost of the two sites recommended by the Committee of Forty exceeds the amount of funds set aside for the purchase of land by the city in its application for FWA funds, it should also be remembered that there is still a differential of some $11,000 of un-allocated funds between the estimated cost of the buildings and the amount of the bond issue. It would seem wise to use this money in order to put the buildings where they belong, and where the people by their committee representatives have so emphatically said they want them.

Congressman Leaves For Washington

Congressman Charles J. Colden left last Friday for Washington, D. C., stopping en route to attend the meeting of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress at New Orleans. Congressman Colden is a member of the important rivers and harbors committee of the House of Representatives. He is leaving for Washington early in order to clear his desk of departmental work in preparation for the opening of the next Congressional session on January 3.

BOSTON, (U.P.)—Several hundred pounds of fish landed their man—in a hospital. Michael Curtis, 33, was hoisting baskets of fish from the hold of a fish trawler when a rope broke and the fish fell on him.

Old, Old Razors Matched
ATHENS, O. (U.P.)—When Wayne Kinney of Pleasanton read an account of a man who had used the same razor for 47 years, he yawned slightly amused. Kinney has a razor he has used almost daily since 1880—and it seems to be good for many more years.

John Blackmore Passes Away At Hospital Thurs.

Resident of Torrance Ten Years Succumbs; Ill One Month

John Blackmore, 2409 Carson street, passed away at the Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital on Thursday, November 7, after an illness of about one month. Mr. Blackmore was born in Clayton Center, New York, on November 10, 1855, lacking two days of having reached his 80th birthday. On September 20, 1882, he was married in Morrison, Illinois, to Miss Addie Stowell, and the couple resided in Prophetstown, Illinois, for a number of years, where he followed the trade of carpenter and contractor.

Since coming to Torrance ten years ago Mr. Blackmore maintained a small shop at his residence, where he carried on a business in mending and small jobs.

MISS CHASE SPEAKER AT CLASS MEETING

Miss Ada Chase, art teacher at Torrance high school, was guest speaker at the meeting of Christian church ladies' Bible class when they met in the recreation hall Friday evening. Miss Chase told of a trip to Carlsbad, New Mexico, and exhibited pictures painted by herself while on the trip. The Misses Lola and Elsie Schwartz, child violinists from Long Beach, were generously applauded when they played two violin duets. Mrs. Alice Hazel, director of church music, sang several request numbers. Forty members attended the meeting, which was one of the most enjoyable this group has had so far. Mrs. Jas. H. Crumrine presented the program.

Holsteins Have Movie Aspirations

Betty and Bossy, a pair of docile Holsteins, evidently became tired of the humdrum existence of a dairy farm. It seemed they had ambitions to appear in moving pictures. At any rate, the cows were found calmly walking down the main thoroughfare of Hollywood. The runaways were captured by Policeman John Uhlak, taken to jail, and later "bailed out" by their owner.

Do You Operate Under A FICTITIOUS FIRM NAME?

• If so, have you complied with the requirements of Section 2466 of the Civil Code, which says: "Every person and every partnership transacting business . . . under a fictitious firm name . . . must file . . . a certificate stating the name in full and the place of residence of such person and the members of such partnership . . . Such certificate must be published once a week for four consecutive weeks."

• If you have neglected this procedure, do you realize that the name of your firm is not protected, and that you are not entitled to maintain suits in the courts of the State of California?

• Take care of this important matter NOW by having this newspaper publish the certificate. Come into the office—it takes only a few minutes to have the form filled out and we will file the documents for you. The cost is small, but the filing and publication is something which should not be overlooked. Very small cost. You simply pay us a nominal publication charge plus $1 for the county filing fee.
